It is my sister birthday

It was my sister's birthday. I woke up and a few minutes later my parents woke up , and sang the happy birthday song and she didn't like when we sang the birthday song but we still sang the happy Birthday song.Then a few hour later during the few hours my brother went to church school and I sat in the car playing on my ipad in I did not go because I finished church school during we went the mall also . My step dad came, and got presents and a cake. Then my mom said ¨come and cut the cake but ¨she said no¨ my step-dad said came, and cut the cake she would not come we just cut the cake and open the presents and I had to get ready to go to my dad's house. My step dad bought some presents one was a alphabet strip. My step dad and my sister put away the presents then I went to my dad's house.
